14. Count Me In Peel – Report on the Findings of the 2016-2017 Workforce Census

Associate Director of Instructional Support Services, Scott Moreash, stated that the Workforce Census conducted in November 2016 was intended to obtain information on Peel DSB's diverse employee makeup, through a survey of 22 questions. He advised that the report provides a general overview of the self-reported data collected, and some initial recommendations and action plans which will be finalized in fall 2017. He highlighted that the Analysis and Reporting Committee will consist of Peel DSB stakeholders to guide and steer actions related to the Workforce Census. Scott Moreash thanked Manager of Workplace Equity, Farrell Hall, for his work on the Workforce Census and acknowledged the involvement of Trustees Rick Williams and Harkirat Singh on the census work. He invited Farrell Hall and Jaspreet Pabla, Equity Officer, to present the data.

Using a PowerPoint presentation, Farrell Hall highlighted the finding from The Journey Ahead initiative, to collect and analyze data, with a goal to achieve inclusion for all, through continuous progress on equity. He stated that 11,084 employees participated in the Workforce Census and the response reflects 66.3% of all Peel DSB's permanent employees. He explained how the questionnaire was organized and noted that in an attempt to collect accurate data, employees were offered options to choose from. Reviewing the report, he presented data on organizational and workforce demographics which included: participation by employee group; employees in a position of responsibility; work location; employment status and length of service; country of birth; age and retirement plans; residence in or out of Peel Region; disabilities; gender identity; education; racial identity; self-identification of indigenous people; ethnicity; religion or spirituality; languages spoken. Farrell Hall emphasized the strengths identified by the census, such as, a positive participation rate, diversity indicated by 148 different countries of birth, 117 languages spoken, and 41.8% of employees communicate fluently in more than one language; 82% of employees have university degrees and 23% have graduate degrees. Noting that recommendations, key themes, and action items are contained in the report, he acknowledged the work of the Research and Accountability, and Curriculum and Instruction Support Services departments.

Chair McDougald thanked Associate Director Moreash for his leadership on this initiative and expressed appreciation for the report as a starting point for future work. Trustees' questions of clarification were responded to regarding: action plan will include a review of gender split among positions of responsibility and senior administration; data accuracy may depend on the respondents' understanding of the questions; data is not reported in cases of small cell count of less than 10; hiring practices for racialized staff; data may be affected by higher number of younger or fewer older respondents; questions can be rephrased in the next census to allay any fears. Trustees speaking acknowledged the significant amount of work done on this project and thanked Scott Moreash, Farrell Hall, and staff who worked on the report.

15. Graduation Rates 2015-2016

Associated Director Moreash stated that the high graduation rate is a reflection of the hard work and dedication of Peel teachers and support staff and family members who work together to ensure student achievement and well-being. He noted that once again this year, according to Peel DSB calculations, Peel's 5-year graduation rate is 93%, and higher than the provincial average of 87%. He thanked Carol Speers, Superintendent of Education, Alternative Programs, for her leadership and invited her to present the report.

Superintendent Speers recalled that, in 2005, the Ministry of Education began to track graduation rates as a measure of success. Using a PowerPoint presentation, she provided an overview of graduating rates for 2015-2016. She stated that 87% of Peel's students completed the Ontario Secondary School Diploma over a 4 year period and 93% over a 5-year period. The Ministry calculations show Peel's 5-year graduation at 88%. Carol Speers explained the difference between Peel's method and the Ministry's method of calculation, noting that Peel does not include students who are not working towards a secondary school diploma, such as students with developmental disabilities and in vocational level 1 classes, as well as students who are enrolled at the beginning of the year but leave Peel during the academic year. Carol Speers reviewed the 4 and 5-year data for all students, showing trends over time and the break-down of data according to gender, English Language Learners (ELL), special education needs, students in Pathways programs, and Social Risk Index. Providing an analysis of non-graduating students, Carol Speers noted that the percentage has been reducing over the years, and she described the Pathways programs available to assist non-graduating students to meet requirements to graduate.

The administration responded to trustees' questions of clarification regarding: reasons for identified special needs students doing better than non-identified students, and whether non-identified students need an identification and placement review; students may attend a neighbourhood secondary school or use e-learning to complete graduation; Ministry fully funds students until the age of 21 years or for 7 years of high school, however students in the sixth year are funded at 50%. A trustee commented on the larger number of non-graduating males versus females. She also asked about the possibility of exit surveys to gather information as to why students leave Peel DSB without graduating. With regard to writing a letter to the Ministry of Education regarding recognition of the Developmental Disabilities Certificate, Chair McDougald proposed that the Ministry be approached through the Ontario Public School Boards' Association (OPSBA).

Resolution No. 17-155 moved by Kathy McDonald
seconded by Robert Crocker

Resolved, that the report re Graduation Rates 2015-2016, be received.

He reported that questions are being raised by the media and community about the issue of streaming and the effect it has on student achievement and well-being, particularly for marginalized students. Scott Moreash stated that the report provides initial information on de-streaming efforts in Ontario and a full report on the feasibility of conducting a pilot will be developed in fall 2017.

In response to Vice-Chair Nurse's query about a further review on the matter in view of the research report of the pilot project at C. W.
