Name of community agency/organization:

With a Thousand Cranes

Description of community agency/organization:

YOUR MISSION: Create a thousand origami paper cranes (senbazuru).

OUR GOAL: With a Thousand Cranes is an initiative aimed at creating hope, belonging, and connection amongst both receivers and volunteers.

A LITTLE BIT OF HISTORY: According to Japanese legend, folding a thousand paper cranes brings a person happiness and good luck. In some versions of the story, the person may be granted a wish by the gods. In Japan, the crane is a bird of happiness – a symbol of luck and longevity. It lives a thousand years; and each crane in the senbazuru symbolizes one year of happiness. Hence, gifting a thousand cranes to a person lets them know that they are loved.

OUR PHILOSOPHY: We want to spark hope, belonging, and connection.

Our volunteers are working toward a collective goal – to make a thousand cranes for someone in need. We hope that by donating this gift, the receiver feels loved and acknowledged. There are many charities that raise funds, but sometimes that is not enough. We need to look holistically at a person’s situation. Human beings strive on belonging and connection. In certain times of our lives though, this may become difficult. We hope that whenever the receiver looks at this gift, he or she knows that there is someone out there who cares. We hope that the receiver can feel connected with the community.

As for the volunteers, each member is collaborating to achieve this goal. Whether volunteers work individually, or work in teams with their friends and family, each person is important. We hope volunteers have a fun time in the process!
